At Kutes, one of our responsibility-linked principles is to care for the environment in all our activities. In line with this principle, we apply the ISO 14001:2015 Environmental Management System standard to continuously monitor and improve our environmental performance.

In this framework;

- For a sustainable world, we manage all our processes to reduce the environmental impact of our operations.
- We identify potential emergencies that may affect the environment during our operations and take the necessary measures in advance.
- We aim to improve the environmental impact of our products throughout their life cycle.
- We set environmental targets for our company and try to achieve our goals by designing programs to implement them.
- We act in accordance with all legal regulations published on environmental issues. In addition, we fulfill the environmental demands of our customers, and we share our environmental activities with the public in full transparency.
- In order to ensure that our employees take environmental issues into consideration in our operations, we enable our employees to acquire awareness on environmental issues and we take care to increase their environmental sensitivity.
- Within the scope of combating climate change, we calculate our greenhouse gas emissions and set targets to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from our operations. To this end, we ensure the efficient use of limited natural resources that provide raw materials, water and energy for our operations.
- We ensure that our wastes generated as a result of our activities are minimized, that waste is reused and recycled, and that waste that is not utilized is disposed of through appropriate methods.
- We strive to utilize the raw materials we use in our operations efficiently.
- By minimizing our environmental impacts, we contribute to the society to live in a healthy environment and prevent them from being adversely affected environmentally, socially and economically by our activities.
- Contributing to the protection of the environment with the projects we have undertaken and will undertake, we aim to maintain a reputable company image and set an example for our suppliers, customers and competitors.

Kutes is committed to act in accordance with the ISO 14001:2015 Environmental Management System.

This policy is reviewed periodically and updated when deemed necessary. The Sustainability Committee is responsible for updating the policy. The Policy entered into upon the approval of the Top Management.
